Belles & Whistles

...or

The Villain's Loco Motive Is On The Wrong Track!

A Brand New Musical Melodrama

Written and Directed by: Elaine L. Hubbard

Music Composed and Directed by: Mary Ann Bishop

Lyrics by: Elaine L. Hubbard

Belles and Whistles is set during the early days of the Great Depression. Nell Gauge, stationmaster for the Flagstop Depot, is under the gun to pull the whole town out of trouble and back on the map. The villainous Hugh Swindler has bought up almost all the property in Flagstop, evicting everyone so he can claim all the land for its mysterious value. No longer on the map and forgotten by the rest of the country, the little town of Flagstop can't even get the train to stop there unless it's flagged down in time!

Nell has kindly taken in the dwindling population so that the train station also serves as the town hall, courthouse, post office, general store, schoolhouse, saloon, hotel, jail, bank, church, and the radio station. All your favorite characters are there, also, not one but two villains, the lovely heroine, our handsome hero, a somewhat trusty sidekick, Aunt Nell's radio show performers, a couple of singing sisters, who, with a host of stranded and somewhat mysterious train passengers all scramble to foil both our villains' plans as they broadcast a dramatic, and musical, version of their case all the way to the East coast. Do they succeed? Will Nell's secret extract help end the Depression? Do Ginger S. Knapp and Sterling Worth fall in love? Is there really a recipe for kumquat and rutabaga soufflé?
